Dig Into Our Past with Archaeological Field Experience

Live your inner explorer while helping professional archaeologists study a local historic site. This week-long emersion experience allows you to work with archaeologists to unearth part of a 1700-1800s era family farm site. Uncover artifacts that have not been seen for hundreds of years. Set up a GPS grid, excavate and identify objects that could be 8,000 years old. This is a perfect opportunity for teens to expand college resumes. The fee for this program is $425 per person in-county and $440 out-of-county. A modest lab fee may be charged.

The one-week program begins on August 8, 2016. Participants begin onsite by 9 a.m. Monday through Friday for the day-long program. For registration and information, contact Ellanor C. Lawrence Park at 703-631-0013.
