Process Grain the Old-Fashioned Way and Take Home Samples

There's nothing run-of-the-mill about this class. Colvin Run Mill will give visitors a unique look at the milling process with a two-hour, hands-on program on Sunday, November 13, 2016.

Milling was once an important business in Fairfax County, and in this program you'll see antique equipment in action as you learn how grain was cleaned, milled and sifted the old-fashioned way. Participate in the process from beginning to end – and everyone gets to take home a souvenir sample bag of what is milled during class.

Class is in session from 1 to 3 p.m. The program is designed for participants age six to adult, and the cost is $20 per person.

Colvin Run Mill is located at 10017 Colvin Run Rd, Great Falls, Va. For more information, call 703-759-2771 or visit www.fairfaxcounty.gov/parks/colvinrunmill/events.htm.
